

Cheryl Goldsleger

Biography

Cheryl Goldsleger exhibits in the United States and internationally. Her work has been included in exhibitions at the Corcoran Gallery in Washington, DC, the American Academy in New York, the Albright-Knox Art Gallery in Buffalo, the Brooklyn Museum, the Islip Art Museum, The National Museum of Women in the Arts, the Virginia Museum, the New Orleans Museum, the Israel Museum, and the Tel Aviv Museum. Her work has been discussed in an extensive list of publications, and her awards include two National Endowment for the Arts Artist Fellowships, a Southeastern Center for Contemporary Art Fellowship, a residency at the La Napoule Foundation in southern France and a US/France exchange fellowship at the Cite Internationale des Arts in Paris.

Goldsleger's drawings and paintings are in the collections of the Albright-Knox Art Gallery, the Brooklyn Museum, The Fogg Museum, the High Museum, the Israel Museum, the Museum of Modern Art, the New Orleans Museum, the North Carolina Museum of Art, the Rhode Island School of Design Museum, the Tel Aviv Museum and other important public and private collections.

back